

Cloud Lookalikes & Latin Names

Lesson 1.3 Photo Guide

A cat

Spotted over Ashted, Surrey, England by Debbie Whatt

A bird of prey

Spotted over Les Allues, Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes, France by James McAllister

A face in the storm

Spotted over Erm, Netherlands by Nienke Lantman

A rabbit on a roof

Spotted over Provence, France by Fiorella Iacono

A breakdancer

Spotted over Zalau, Romania by Fiorella Iacono

A heart

Spotted over Darwin, Australia by Shirley Hendy

Can you guess what the name for this flactus cloud means in Latin?

(Answer: Flactus means 'wave' in Latin)

Flactus spotted by Patrick Dennis

The name for the lacunosus cloud is Latin for 'full of holes'
Lacunosus spotted by Gunda Wiczorek

The name for lenticularis clouds is the Latin for a 'lentil'
Lenticularis spotted by Luciano Gerber

